How to book?

You can book via our website, www.cafemakaan.co.uk. Should this not be possible, you can email or call us.

What is the difference between Traditional and Makaan Afternoon Tea?

Our traditional afternoon tea consists of three tiers. Finger sandwiches, scones and petit fours. This is served with a pot of tea or filtered coffee. Our Makaan Afternoon Tea starts with our house mocktails and roasted nuts. Then we serve our Afternoon Tea stand consisting of finger sandwiches, a cultural plate and petit fours. The cultural plate is an adapted savoury menu from a specific part of the world i.e Mumbai or Beirut. You are also able to choose from any two hot beverages from our menu or a pot of tea/coffee.

Is Champagne included?

Traditional Afternoon Tea and Makaan Afternoon Tea do not include Champagne, however, you can enjoy a glass of our house sparkling tea, for an additional fee.

Is your menu Halal?

All our food is Halal & HMC approved.

Do you offer gluten free Afternoon Tea?

We do offer a gluten free menu. In order to make our chefs aware, we kindly ask you to let us know if you require this at least 72 hours prior to your arrival.

Can you arrange something special for our table?

We love welcoming guests for special occasions and encourage you to let us know if you are joining us for a celebration. From birthday cakes to beautiful bouquets crafted by our talented team, we are ready to make your Afternoon Tea experience one to remember. Please let us know at least 72 hours prior to your experience so our team can let you know options and provide costs.

Do you have a waiting list for cancellations?

Yes, we do have a waiting list for cancellations, however, our system is live allowing guests to book and cancel themselves on our website.
